LOCAL BREVITIES.

Matters of Minor Moment in and About the City.

THE GRAND this evening—"Two Old Cronies."

The North Wheeling hose reel was taken to the Charles J. Elig carriage shops yesterday for repairs.

A power of attorney from the Monongahela Coal Company to Alfred Caldwell was yesterday filed with Clerk Hook.

JOHN STERRY, chairman of the Belmont Republican central committee, is making arrangements for the Bridgeport Foraker meeting.

GEORGE POINDEKSTON, an old time Virginia colored orator, will make a Republican speech on Bank street, Bridgeport, next Saturday evening.

Two plain drunks were all the cases that showed up for the police court yesterday. One was let go to leave town and the other sent to the workhouse.

BRIDGEPORT Democrats did not turn out in large numbers to attend the Campbell meeting at Ballaie last night. They failed to enthrone to any extent.

Owing to the scarcity of the supply and the increased demand with cold weather, the price of coke at the city gas works has again been advanced to the old price, three cents a bushel.

CITY SOLICITOR BOYCE yesterday recovered his lost collie dog. It had simply gone out on a calling tour, and wound up at Burns & Church's stable, in aristocratic canine and equine company.

ONLY one week remains in which to pay city taxes and get the benefit of the discount. The money has been pouring in at a pretty lively rate the past week, everybody seeming to be determined to save the discount.

Last evening the most successful engagement, from an artistic point of view, ever given at the Grand closed with a good house. It was "The Three Guardsmen," given by a good company, and with excellent costumes and scenic accessories.

The committees on streets, alleys and grades and railroads have been called to meet in joint session at 4 p. m. to-day to consider a petition of the Wheeling Ice and Storage Company to be allowed to lay another switch to their plant on the South Side.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Strangers in the City and Wheeling Folks Abroad.

G. D. Smith, of Middlebourne, was a Windsor arrival yesterday.

J. Hicks and wife, of Sistersville, were at the Stamm last evening.

J. W. Montague and wife, of Clarksburg, are guests at the Windsor.

O. B. Ramey, the Sistersville oil magnate, photographed at the Stamm.

Miss Susie Moore, of Proctor, was here yesterday on a shopping expedition.

George B. Thompson and wife, of Sistersville, were at the Windsor yesterday.

Hon. W. P. Tyler, of Washington, Pa., the tube manufacturer, registered at the Windsor.

Charles Burgess, Jr., a Titusville oil operator, was here yesterday, en route to Sistersville.

The Mozart Symphony Club, passed through the city yesterday. They were Windsor guests.

W. H. Manderville, of Olean, N. Y., was here yesterday. He is interested in the south west oil fields.

John A. George, of Middlebourne, who has been lucky in oil leases lately, was at the Windsor last evening.

J. F. Baxter, of Ravenswood and Frank McKim and wife, of Parkersburg, were arrivals at the Stamm yesterday.

Robert D. Clark, Jr., of Pittsburgh, representing the American Type Foundry Company, was here on a business visit yesterday. He figured on the register at the Stamm.

J. W. Garcelon, of Clarksburg; H. Lowell, and H. M. Cutchin and wife, of Sistersville, and J. Tague, of Mannington, were among the West Virginia people at the Behler.

Died at Beech Bottom.

Yesterday at Beech Bottom, up the river, George W. Lake, a brother of Robert T. Lake, of this city, died in the fifty-sixth year of his age, after a siege of typhoid fever. The funeral arrangements had not been completed last evening.

Five Residence at Public Auction. On Saturday morning, October 26, at the front door of the court house, the residence of the late Lewis Jones will be sold at public auction. This is one of the most desirable homes in the city. It is situated on North York street, on what is considered the highest ground on the island. The house has all the modern improvements, beautiful grounds, etc. It will be a rare opportunity for anyone desiring to purchase a fine home at a bargain.

ATLANTA EXCURSIONS.

Lower Rates via Pennsylvania Lines. In addition to twenty day and season excursion tickets to Atlanta, exceptional low rates have been made for ten day tickets via Pennsylvania lines. These tickets will be sold October 26, November 5, 15th and 25th, December 5 and 16th at $18.40 from Wheeling. For special information address John G. Tomlinson or John Bailie, ticket agents, Wheeling.

GEN. HARRIS IN TOWN.

A Former Well Known Politician and now an Ocean-Mariner.

The venerable Gen. T. M. Harris, of Ritchie county, was at the Stamm house yesterday on his way to Washington, Pa. He is near his eighty-third year, but is quite well preserved and in good health. He was a member of the military court that tried Mrs. Surratt at the close of the war for complicity in the assassination of President Lincoln. Some years back the general was quite prominent in West Virginia politics. He held the office of pension agent at Wheeling for several years. Later, however, he has devoted himself to his agricultural interests in Ritchie county. He is at "outs," he says, "with both the old parties," and is a Prohibitionist and also something of a Populist. He says times are not good in his part of the state. They want more silver and more rain, particularly the latter. The fall seeding has suffered for lack of moisture.

Asked in regard to prohibition prospects, he says that the fulness of the time has not yet arrived for its triumph. The people do not seem to want a party of one idea. They have other ideas that they are not willing as yet to subordinate to a single plank platform. But, said he, prohibition will yet achieve its triumph.

BEING TRIED FOR MURDER.

The Stosnider Case Attracts Some Attention in Court at Mountsville.

Frank Duncan is on trial in the Marshall county circuit court for the murder of L. E. Stosnider, near Board Tree, about the first of this month. The trial has not attracted a great deal of attention other than among the citizens of the immediate neighborhood. It appears that Duncan and Stosnider had been to Cameron and got on a "spree."

While together a few words had passed between them, but no serious trouble occurred. Duncan had gone home and was followed by Stosnider, and at this place they became boisterous and were in for fighting, when Duncan drew a knife and stabbed Stosnider, who lived for about three hours after receiving the cuts.

About twenty witnesses have testified in the case and argument was begun on behalf of the state by Prosecuting Attorney T. J. Parsons last evening. The defense is represented by J. A. Ewing. Court adjourned over last evening and argument will be concluded this morning. It is likely that the jury will return a verdict before noon to-day.

BELOW TEN INCHES.

The River Nearly Equals the Low Water Record at This Port.

The snow in western Pennsylvania in the upper Allegheny valley has not yet materialized so far as bringing up the rivers. The stage recorded here last evening was nine and one-half inches, within half an inch of the lowest stage ever seen here. That nine inch record breaker was shown on the marks in the summer of '94 and unless something drows it is likely that nine inches and even lower will be recorded on the Wheeling marks.

The river men are dumfounded at the continued extreme low water, which has lasted by far a longer period than ever before known in the upper Ohio valley, having kept the big packers, and lately the smaller boats, at the bank. None of the big boats has turned a wheel since the first week in June, nearly five months of idleness. Then taking out the period of two months when the river was frozen over, it will be seen that in ten months there has been less than three months of a river navigable for the larger craft. The upper Ohio is breaking records with a vengeance.

The River Marks.

Warren—River four-tenths of a foot below low water mark. Weather clear and cool.

Oil City—River 2 inches and stationary. Weather clear and cool.

Greensboro—River 6 feet 8 inches and falling. Weather fair and pleasant.

Morgantown—River 6 feet and stationary. Weather clear and cooler.

Marie Wainwright Coming.

There should be a large and fashionable audience at the Opera House on Tuesday, October 29, to see the always welcome and pleasing Marie Wainwright in her latest success, a gorgeously costumed revival of Sheridan Knowles' most famous comedy, "The Love Chase." The company is still headed by Nathaniel Hartwig, and has been greatly strengthened for this piece by the addition of Barton Hill and Hattie Russell. Miss Wainwright, as the heroine, Constance, has made one of the most brilliant successes of her honorable career, and was unanimously praised by the best critics of the New York and Brooklyn press. Miss Wainwright will speak an epilogue written expressly for her by Julian Magnus, and the performance will end with a gavotte danced by all principals. Miss Wainwright will on Wednesday present her new society drama of life in New York City, "His Puritan Wife," by Florence Schoeffel.

That Joyful Feeling.

With the exhilarating songs of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Fico, is unknown to the few who have not pressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never accepted by the well informed.
